Camille Valentine

Senior Vice President, Wealth Management, UBS Financial Services

Camille Valentine is a seasoned investment professional and currently Senior Vice President, Wealth Management at UBS Financial Services. Previously, Camille joined Kidder, Peabody & Co. to serve the needs of high net worth investors and formed Little, McLeod, Valentine Wealth Management. Camille's team has been together for over 25 years and is committed to the strategic planning and wealth management needs of its multi-generational clientele.

Camille has provided leadership over the last two years as chair of GBFB's second largest signature event, Women Fighting Hunger. Camille has made connections, strategically encouraged growth and elevation of the event by engaging corporations, shaping the role of the committee members, and developed leadership opportunities to engage donors. Camille has encouraged WFH to provide "white glove service" to generous supporters to engage and steward GBFB support while balancing GBFB's resources. Last year WFH raised over $500,000 which is a 35 percent increase in revenue annually. Camille has also served in leadership positions for several philanthropic groups including the Justine Lee Miff Fund, and as a member of the Board of Advocates at the Connors Center for Women's Health & Gender Biology at Brigham Health. She has been a guest speaker and panelist at the Center for Women's Leadership at Babson College. Camille joined the Greater Boston Food Bank's Board of Advisors in October 2020.

Camille received a B.A. from Smith College, and her MBA from Babson College Graduate School of Business.
