2012 Annual Report

ONE MEAL A DAY.

Everyone has a role in ending hunger in our community.
LEADERSHIP MESSAGE

Dear Friends and Supporters,

The Greater Boston Food Bank (GBFB) is proud of several extraordinary accomplishments during the 2012 fiscal year. In 2011 we set for ourselves the daunting challenge to End Hunger Here by distributing enough food to provide ONE MEAL A DAY to every one of our neighbors facing hunger in eastern Massachusetts. Since setting this goal, we have increased our distribution by 17% to 41 million pounds of food. We estimate it will take 53 million pounds of food to reach ONE MEAL A DAY.

The food GBFB provides through our 550 hunger relief partners, as well as more than 30 of our own direct food distribution programs, meets the highest nutrition standards. Our Registered Dietitians and nutrition experts carefully rate every food product that passes through our Yawkey Distribution Center to ensure that at least 75% of it can provide healthier meals to those in need – a critically important goal, especially for the many vulnerable children and seniors we serve. In 2012, more than 80% of the food we provided met that standard.

As meaningful as these achievements are, what is more impressive is the progress we’re making in the face of significant and growing societal challenges. The still slow economic recovery, and continued un- and under-employment in our region, mean that more and more families are seeking food assistance. At the same time, federal budget reductions have meant a 35% decline in the amount of food we receive from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, while food prices increase by 3-4 percent annually due to rising commodity prices for crops impacted by the country’s recent record heat and drought.

Despite these daunting trends, GBFB’s fierce commitment to End Hunger Here has never been stronger. We have already established new and even more ambitious goals to increase nutritious food distribution, and to ensure we are reaching the communities and individuals who need help the most.

Moreover, we know that everything we accomplish is possible because of the generosity and commitment of our friends, partners, volunteers and supporters listed in this report. Hunger hurts. We can help. On behalf of everyone at GBFB, and for every person who benefits from our work together, thank you very much.

Sincerely,

Catherine D’Amato
President and CEO

Philip Licari
Board Chair
* SHARED MAINTENANCE: GBFB receives shared maintenance fees from its member agencies in order to offset the cost of handling and redistributing donated food, as recommended by Feeding America.
OUR COMMITMENT TO SAFE AND HEALTHY FOOD

The Greater Boston Food Bank (GBFB) is dedicated to providing meals to those facing hunger in our communities, and we are intensely committed to ensuring the food we distribute meets the highest nutrition standards. Under the “Choosing Healthy Options Program,” or “CHOP” rating system, more than 80% of the 40.8 million pounds of food GBFB provided last year was deemed among the “best” and “better” healthy food options. That included 10 million pounds of fresh fruits and vegetables.

This is of critical importance because so many who receive the food we provide are among high risk population groups, such as young children, seniors, those who are homeless and those with compromised immune systems. These vulnerable individuals rely on nutritious meals to stay safe, active and healthy.

GBFB’s Nutrition Team includes two Registered Dietitians, both experts and educators in nutrition. They conduct the ServSafe food safety training required for every team member with food handling responsibilities at GBFB, and are constantly assessing, monitoring and improving food management and safety at our 117,000 square foot distribution warehouse, the Yawkey Distribution Center.

Fresh produce accounted for 25% of the food distributed by GBFB in FY 2012.

Our dietitians also help our 550 hunger relief partners throughout eastern Massachusetts to identify and receive the best foods for their clients. They provide information and support, and a lively monthly newsletter, “Nutritious Bytes,” with health tips and recipes. Learn more and find a link to the latest issue at GBFB.org/nutrition.

In 2012, GBFB also launched its Click ‘N Cook web application, which offers nutritious recipes based on many of the ingredients that are available to clients at GBFB member agencies. Visit GBFB.org/clickncook to learn more.

In addition, GBFB’s nutrition experts support our direct food distribution programs. They conduct the nutrition education classes that are a vital aspect of Kids Café, our after school meals program in collaboration with local Boys and Girls Clubs. And they participate in our School-based Pantries and Mobile Markets, where families in need can select foods in a farmers’ market style setting. There, they encourage healthy choices by offering recipes for the fresh produce and proteins available, and often offering sampling opportunities for clients.

As many as 545,000 people benefit from the stable supply of nutritious food that GBFB distributes each year.
In 2011, The Greater Boston Food Bank (GBFB) made an historic commitment to increase our acquisition and distribution of food from 35 million pounds per year to 38.4 million pounds by 2013. Our goal was ambitious: to provide ONE MEAL A DAY to every person at risk of hunger in eastern Massachusetts.

With the help of generous food and financial donors, as well as the hard work of GBFB’s dedicated staff, we met – and exceeded – our goal in FY 2012. Last year, we distributed almost 41 million pounds of food to provide 32.5 million meals to our neighbors in need. While this represents an extraordinary achievement, the growing problem of hunger in our communities still challenges GBFB and its supporters.

We continue to advance our ONE MEAL A DAY strategic objective. The new goal is to increase food distribution to ensure that those who face hunger in each county, city and town are provided the help they need. When we reach our overall goal for food distribution in a county, GBFB will move beyond to ensure the need is met in every city and town.

To meet our objectives, we’re utilizing innovative geo-mapping software to track need, as well as our progress, based on census data, agency reports, and other information about poverty and vulnerable populations, especially children and seniors. We estimate that we’ll have to increase our annual food distribution to 53 million pounds to reach this new objective – enough to provide 40.8 million meals.

GBFB is able to establish – and achieve – such aggressive goals because of our Yawkey Distribution Center’s extraordinary capacity, and the ever-increasing support of individuals, foundations, corporations and business partners.

TOGETHER, WE WILL END HUNGER HERE.
