

Emeriti Board

Rev. Rena Prendergast

Reverend Rena Prendergast is an Interfaith Minister with a spiritual direction practice and a retired registered dietitian.

While on The Greater Boston Food Bank's Board of Directors, Rena served on the Executive Committee and was involved in the move toward focusing on healthy foods and having registered dietitians on staff.

Rena is also a past president of the Massachusetts Dietetic Association, which is now the Massachusetts Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. She also chaired the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Hunger and Malnutrition Dietetic Practice Group.

Rena holds a Bachelor of Arts from Montclair University. She completed a Dietetic Internship at the Bronx Veteran's Administration, as well as a Boston University Graduate Program in Nutrition and Communication. She later went on to attend Harvard Divinity School earning her Masters of Theological Studies and was ordained after attending the New Seminary in NYC.
