

Ed Mackey

Member, Board of Directors

Vice Chair, Governance and Nominating Committee

Member, Audit and Compliance Committee

Edward Mackey is currently retired, having previously been the Executive Vice President of Global Operations at Boston Scientific since 2015. In this role, he was responsible for Global Manufacturing and Supply Chain, Quality and Regulatory, Information Services, Global Business Services, Global Business Excellence, Corporate Research and Development and Corporate Strategy and Marketing. Prior to joining Boston Scientific in 2015, Ed was the Worldwide President of DePuy Synthes Power Tools, a division of Johnson & Johnson, after having served as Vice President of Integration for Johnson & Johnson's acquisition of Synthes. Earlier in his career, Ed held management positions in Operations, Quality and Product Development at Raytheon's Missile Systems division. In 1995, he moved to Johnson & Johnson Orthopedics as a plant manager and progressed through a series of manufacturing and supply chain leadership roles, becoming Worldwide Vice President of Supply Chain and Manufacturing for DePuy in 2007.

Ed acts as an advisor to several companies in the medical device industry, and is the Chair of the Biomedical Engineering Advisory Council and a member of the Engineering Advisory Council at Worcester Polytechnic Institute. He is a former member of the Board of Directors of the Mass High Technology Council. Ed joined the Greater Boston Food Bank Board of Directors in October 2020.

Ed holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering from Worcester Polytechnic Institute and an MBA from the University of Massachusetts.