

John Ricciuti

Vice Chair and Clerk, Board of Directors
Vice Chair, Strategic Planning Committee
Member, Executive Committee

John Ricciuti is a lifelong Massachusetts resident. A graduate of the University of Massachusetts, he began his career at Boston-based retailer Jordan Marsh. He later moved to The TJX Companies, Inc. in 1997 and has worked in both The Marmaxx Group (T.J.Maxx and Marshalls) and the HomeGoods divisions in increasingly senior roles.

John was promoted to President of HomeGoods in 2014. Since assuming the role, he has led HomeGoods – and its sister store concept, Homesense – in becoming a nationwide, rapidly growing 950+ store chain.

In addition to his support of The Greater Boston Food Bank, John is on the Board of Directors at Camp Harbor View. John and his family are active supporters of The Pink Agenda, an organization that raises both funds and awareness for breast cancer research.

John is the proud father of sons, Joe, Peter, and Jack.
