

Kim Goldinger

Member, Board of Directors
Member, Strategic Planning Committee

Kim Goldinger began a second career during the pandemic and is now Managing Partner of Ventures Done, LLC specializing in home renovation and construction. She is also the director of Silk Fields Farm, a small education-focused farm in Lexington. Prior to these jobs, she served as Director of Business Development for Motorola.

Kim has worked with numerous non-profits including the Museum of Science, where she served the Board of Overseers for six years. Kim has been a GBFB donor since 2001 and hosted the first Farm-to-Table Dinner in 2017 at her farm in Lexington. Kim previously served as Chair of the Greater Boston Food Bank's Board of Advisors until October 2024, when she joined the Board of Directors.

Kim earned a Bachelor's of Science degree from Florida State University and a Master's degree from the Massachusetts Institute for Technology, both in Electrical Engineering. She lives in Lexington where she raised her three daughters.
